Interferes in Dog Fight and is Severely Bitten

Rancher Howell, residing in the Southern suburbs of town, in attempting to seperate two fighting dogs last Thursday afternoon, like the man who jumps in and interferes in a scrap between man and wife, came out of the mix-up as the under dog in the encounter. The canines, forgetting their differences when Howell butted in with the very best of intensions, double-teamed on him, and the peace maker was severely bitten on the thumb of the right hand. So severe were the bites that Dr. Leix was called upon to cauterize and treat them.

BUSINESS MEN WIN OUT IN PETALUMA

Bitterly Fought Election--Harmony Ticket Was Defeated

Municipal Election on Tuesday a Victory for those Opposed to Closing Saloons on Sunday

The municipal election in Petaluma Tuesday was a red hot one. There were two tickets in the field, to-wit: "The Harmony Ticket" and the "Business Men's Ticket," which endorsed several of the formers candidates. The latter represented the business interests of the town, while the so-called Harmonyites were backed up for the most part by hypocritical reformers, who in order to carry out certain "reforms" would ruin the business interests of Petaluma.

The election resulted in a victory for the Business Men's ticket.

A couple of years ago when E. H. Husler resigned from the Petaluma Board of City Trustees to accept the appointment of City Marshal, a new Trustee was selected in his place. This changed the complexion of the Board and gave the so-called reformer element a majority of the Trustees, who passed several measures and enforced them. Among these was the closing of the saloons on Sundays—a very good idea no doubt if only the saloons were made to suffer.

At first tne action of the Trustees was approved by a large number of the business men of Petaluma who did not take time to consider what effect the closing of the saloons would have on other lines of business besides that of the liquor interests. When these discovered, however, that they were to become martyrs to a "reform" measure that was ruining business, they commenced to holler their heads off for a change. These business men realized that the closing of the saloons in their town on Sundays was driving its people elsewhere. They spent their money and the day in Sonoma Valley, Santa Rosa and other near-by places whose people were not so puritanical in their notions as had been the truly good and holy Trustees of our sister town.

They found, too, that when their stores opened on Monday morning for business, there was nothing doing. The money of the middle classes, who believe in enjoying themselves as they see fit on Sundays and who are really the business life of any community, had been spent elsewhere and business of all kinds in many instances dropped off at an alarming rate and ruination stared many worthy people in that town in the face—shopkeeper, hotel men and others—hence the "Business Men's Ticket."

Is it any wonder it won out in Tuesday's election?

The following were the successful candidates: Mayor—William H. Zartman; City Clerk—Frank B. Singley; City Treasurer—Edward B. Butler; Councilmen—M. H. Fredericks, Dr. H Gossage, D. J. Healey, H. H. Kirchival, W. C. Stradling and M. Walsh. Police Judge—C. H. Dillon. Chief of Police—E. A. Heusler. Superintendent of Streets—Eli Shaver.

EUREKA EXTENSION OF N. W. P. RAILROAD

Forrester Stand & Company Secure Contract for the Work

The Closing of the Gap Beyond Sherwood Will Now be Rushed Forward Without Delay

Reports from the present terminus of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad beyond Willits, say that great activity is being manifested in closing the gap of the extension of that road between that point and Eureka, Humbolt County.

This week one of the most important sub-contracts on the extension was let to Forrester, Stand & Co., of Eureka. The contract covers approximately four miles of construction at a point just beyond Dyerville.

This contract is sublet under the Willet & Burr contract, and is not entirely new work, and shows that construction work beyond Dyerville is to be rushed forward for every inch of the right of way. The contract begins at station 5700, or a short distance beyond Dyerville bridge, right in the heart of the beautiful grove of redwoods on what is known as the "Dyerville Flat." On this contract a tunnel of three hundred feet will be encountered and a large amount of filling will be necessary.

NEW JUVENILE COURT LAW

Kids Under Twenty-One Years Are Prohibited from Doing Many Things

Griffins Juvenile Court bill, which was passed by the recent Legislature, and signed by Governor Johnson this week, is now a law and ought to be enforced strictly to the letter. It is one of the few wise measures passed by the late hysterical Legislature and will meet with the approval of all good citizens.

Under the Griffin bill a dependant person—meaning a person under the control of the Juvenile Court—is any person under 21 years of age. Amoung the young people under 21 that this new law will punish are those who habitually drink, smoke cigarettes, visit houses of ill-fame, constantly refuse to go to school, or whose father or mother do not provide for such person, or anyone who is beyond the control of the parents, will be taken care of by this new law.

The American in the Making

In the new play by Israel Zanguill "The Melting Pot" which treats of the amalgamation of the races in the making of the American citizen, the author sets forth the idea that we have never yet realized the real type of American as he will ultimately be. What we now call the American is an unfinished product.

It is to be hoped that like good wine the American will improve with age and that all the fine traits and characteristics of the races will be blended into a splendid product. The process of assimiliation is wonderful and the American citizen in the making is vastly more interesting to contemplate than the finished product. We who live today are moulders. Our world is the workshop. Better still, figuratively speaking, we are planting the broad acreage of this county. We are letting transplanted people take root in new soil. We are watching the off-shoots. We are aiding the survival of the fittest. We are interesting ourselves in determining what constitutes the "fittest" for in the recognition of this factor lies our future prestige. We are interested in inspecting and regulating the raw material which is going into our American for we cannot look for miracles though our fondest idealists hope the weeds become flowers. We encourage immigration where it has any virtue whatever and only bar those elements which the mother countries would drain off on us to purify themselves or which we see could never amalgamate with us but would only attain an unhealthy distinctive growth to become a thorn in our side and to menace with internal dissension.

Thus far with all our faults and imperfections we have some glorious outcroppings for which we can thank our foreign for-bears amid the richness of American soil. We have true enough the money-mad craze of which we are accused but to off-set it we have a wonderful respect for the broader and beautiful things of life and for a young nation we have achieved great things in the arts and sciences and produced genuises and statesmen of whom we may well be proud.

The French, Italian and Spanish elements within us have kept warm the romantic and artistic tendencies. The English, Scotch and lust have encouraged ambition, honesty, pride and warm-heartedness; the German element in our body politic has fostered love of home and family and the encouragement of education. The Swedes, Norwegians and Danes set a fine example of thrift and industry. The Chinese and Japanese, while not contributing directly have their influences on our artistic side. The Chinese command appropriation for their attention to their own business, the Japanese coming in for criticism for the opposite trait.

From all the people of the earth are reflected some influences on this American we are making and the great crucible is destined to give to the world a wonderful type of man.

The Ladies, Home Journal is not popular in Colorado. In fact, the adherents of suffrage in the state have passed resolutions in which they declare that "A certain eastern magazine, purporting to be devoted to the welfare of women and the defense of homes, has been fit to send a prejudicial reporter to write an article on Colorado women with instructions to search for all passible objections to woman suffrage". And resolve that "The Colorado Equal Suffrage Association pledges itself to refrain from giving any support, moral or financial to the journal in question, or from using any article advertised in its colums." The action was brought about by the continued "Knocking" of suffrage in Colorado by the journal which paradoxically is supposed to approve and advance woman's work in every direction.

GLAISTER & BEYERS

WHO IS TO BLAME?

A woman lay dying in a New York hospital last Sunday. Over her leaned a uniformed nurse, catching the whispered story of a fearful tragedy. The words came with difficulty from pain-whitened lips. Death interrupted the narrative. But before breath had entirely gone, the stricken woman, as delirium set in, repeated over and over again a question:

"Why am I here?" she gasped. "What have I done?" "What have I done?" "Why am I here?"

Answer that, friends, for it demands an answer. It is asked of us—each one of us. For we are to blame for the death of this woman—of her and her hundred and fifty fellow-workers in the ill-fated New York factory.

What has she done? She had labored for her bread and the bread of those who depended upon her. She was a working woman. She was one of those who have given meaning to the phrase we now hear so often—"the women's invasion of industry." She was helping to make the clothes we wear.

Why was she there? Why was she lying in that hospital, surrounded by sufferers like herself, and receiving the last ministrations of heavy eyed attendants? Because we in this nation have been lax. Because we have permitted Industry to herd the workers—women and children as well as men—into death traps; there to make for us the things we need. Because—in blazing resentment, perhaps, at some needless holocaust—we have forced men to enact laws that provided for fireproof factories, adequate fire escapes, proper storing of highly inflammable materials, and so forth, and then have gone about our business while the administration of those laws was shaped by Dollars.

Society is responsible. It is not as if this New York horror were the only one of its kind. There have been others—a most appalling list. Should you need assurance on this point, read the April McClure's the story of "The Newark Factory Fire," by Mary Alden Hopkins. That story is terrible enough; yet it is not to be compared with the newspaper stories of the Washington Square fire. Wherever we have factories, we have had these burnings of human beings. We have been forewarned. And it matters not who is immediately to blame for this tragedy; it matter not if officials were lacking in vigilance or lawmakers in foresight. It does matter that we citizens have not, long ago, risen in our collective might and FORCED those who run our industries to provide for the safety of those who work—La Follettes.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe Easy to take as candy.

Brilliant Statesman Passes Away

Tom L. Johnson, ex-congressman, four times Mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, champion of the three cent street car fare. and leading advocate of the single tax, died last monday night at 8:45 after a long illness.

Johnson was taken ill more than a year ago, but his condition was not considered serious until he had a relapse on March 15th. Up to that time he had been gaining steadily since his return from Long Island, where he spent the summer. Since that date he has had relapse after relapse, growing weaker all the time until death resulted.

Great Parade of Battleships

Senator Swanson of Virginia today announced that more than 100 powerful battleships would take part in the naval demonstration marking the opening of the Panama canal in connection with the San Francisco Exposition.

The line of these ships will extend a distance of twenty-five miles as they pass in the canal, and will take ten days going through the canal locks. The arrival of the great armada in San Francisco bay will mark a most remarkable spectacular event in naval history. It will far outclass the arrival of the battleship fleet on its cruise around the world.

The Red Tag Sale at Duhrings

Much interest seems to have been awakened in the ten day clearance sale which begins at Duhrings today. Many articles in each department of their large stock have been greatly reduced in price, notably in the wagon, vehicle, crockery, kitchenware, men's furnishings and the extensive line of shoes for men, women and children. We believe that it will be time well spent to visit the store and inspect the display, because when Duhring cuts prices, he cuts deep.

Marriage License

A marriage license was issued by County Clerk, W. W. Felt, Jr., last Tuesday, to Michele Gori and Angelina Basaglia of this city.

Land Monopoly

The crimes of property are the crimes of society. Society ordains that land is the property of him who holds title to it; it matters not what extent of the domain or how the title was secured; suffice to get it legalized and the 'owner' may exclude the rest of his fellows from the North American continent; and permit them to remain only on their paying tribute, rent, for the privilege. The principle is the same if the owner holds the title to ten or a thousand acres. So long as a man "owns" more land than he himself can use he is usurping the privilege of some other man to use that excess and is hereby a social crimminal, and the system of society that upholds and protects him is a crimminal society. What a man makes should be his. No man ever made land. By what rule of justice does he now monopolize it?—The Agitator.

Carrie Nation is Dead—Hatchet is Also Buried

On April 10th, Mrs. Carrie Nation died in a sanitarium at Leavenworth, Kansas. She was well known to us all, having gained a great deal of notoriety a few years ago, through her effort to stop the sale of liquor. The hatchet with which Carrie Nation disfigured the appearance of many saloons, has probably been buried with her.

FOR FLETCHER'S

CASTORIA

The Voice of Experience

He was a young fellow of mild and embarrassed manners, who according to the doctrine of opposies proposed marriage to the most broad-gauged, determined, and commanding lady in the place, and was snapped up like the small fry who wagged an incautious fin in front of the big pickerel. Husband made two small bursts of speed for independance, but that was enough. He found his rightful place inside of ten forceful minutes and settled down to a life arranged for him as only a loving and determined wife can arrange it. He became more and more timid, admired his wife's great strength of character. and stood in great awe. One evening recently his wife gave him 15 cents and told him to get some meat, and her parting injunction was: Don't you come home with meat that isn't tender or you'll hear from me." The young man ordered a peice of steak and the butcher shaved it off with neatness and dispatch. "Is that steak tender?" he asked. "Tender!" replied the butcher. "Why that's as tender as a woman's heart!" The pale young man shuddered, looked around the shop, and said; "I'll take some sausage meat."—St. Louis Mirror.

Sunday Closing of Postoffices

In several of the churches in Santa Rosa on Sunday, the ministers read the letters they had received from Postmaster H. L. Tripp concerning the communications sent out by the Assistant Postmaster General, relative to the Sunday closing of postoffices. The letter asked that the ministers and congregations lend their assistance in bringing out the desired closing. Some of the official bodies of the church will act in the premises at their next meeting.

A Tree Cut Down by Rifle Bullets.

In the sanguinary annals of the American war there was no more sanguinary episode than the fight in 1864 of "the Bloody Angle at Spottsylvania." "Every bush and every sapling that constituted the thicket there," says Mr G. C. Eggleston in his "History of the Confederate War," "was cut away by a stream of bullets as grass is before a mower's scythe. Even an oak tree nearly two feet thick was worn in two near its base by the continual and incessant stroke of leaden balls until it fell, crushing some of the Confederates who were fighting beneath its branches"

A Neat Compliment.

That was a neat compliment paid by a French ambassador in London to a peeress who had been talking to him for an hour.

The lady said, "You must think I am very fond of the sound of my own voice."

The Frenchman replied, "I knew you liked music."
